Investment Objective

The Global Agility Fund is designed to achieve longterm growth and income by investing in a broad range of asset classes, with a focus on global equities and bonds. An integrated risk and volatility management system will help limit the volatility of the fund unit price to a pre-set range based on the selected risk variant. Additionally, it features a 'Fund Stewardship' mechanism, allowing it to shift investments across different asset classes based on market conditions. The goal is to provide returns over the medium term that are similar to those of a balanced portfolio of global stocks and bonds.

Fund Description

The fund invests in a broad range of asset classes with a particular focus on global equities and bonds. T The fund's objective is to attain a return over the medium term that is comparable to the return of a portfolio consisting of 15% global stocks and 85% global bonds. The fund management pursues a sustainable and responsible investment strategy ("SRI strategy"), which takes environmental, social and governance criteria into account. An integrated risk and volatility management will help to limit the volatility of the fund unit price to a pre-set range of 3-7%in the medium to long term. It shall apply  $\boldsymbol{\alpha}$ hedging mechanism via forwards that will minimize the impact of PHP-USD exchange rate fluctuations on the underlying dollardenominated fund investment.

Market Commentary

Global equities moved higher in September, buoyed by the prospect of the US Federal Reserve's (Fed's) first rate cut this year as well as easing Sino-American trade tensions. European equities edged slightly higher in September but once again underperformed the MSCI All Country World Index mainly due to economic growth concerns in Germany and political turmoil in France.

Emerging market (EM) equities led the advance, followed by US stocks.

Global government bonds rose modestly as yields mostly eased after the Fed cut rates and indicated further reductions were on the cards. Japan proved to be the exception, with yields rising slightly as the Bank of Japan (BoJ) continued to take steps to normalise monetary policy. Returns were also positive in credit markets

In currencies, the US dollar's decline eased in September, although the US Dollar Index briefly hit a 3-year low after the Fed announced a 25basis point (25-bps) rate cut mid-month and investors mulled the possibility of further cuts.

Market Outlook

The Fund posted a positive performance this month. We maintained our portfolio allocation largely unchanged from the previous month, with only minor adjustments: based on our positive signals for equities, we slightly increased our equities and commodities position whilst reducing the fixed income position. Our investment degree was also slightly increased. Because of our positive view, we maintain the focus on EM and Japanese equities and increased gold and gold producers on the equity
